

read a third time, and the question put, Shall the bill pass? Determined the negative, and the bill returned to the house of delegates.

Mr. Forrest from the committee reported a bill, entitled, An additional supplement to the act of December session 1827, chapter 117, entitled, An act to regulate the issuing of licenses to traders, keepers of ordinaries, and others; which was read the first, and by special order a second time, and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

And having been engrossed, was then, on motion of Mr. Forrest read a third time by special order, passed, and sent to the house of delegates.

The clerk of the council delivered the following communication from the executive:

Executive Department

Annapolis, Feb. 24th 1831.

Gentlemen of the Senate,

Your order of this date, requesting that the journals of the Governor and Council for the present year may be laid before you, has just been received.

The proceedings of the Executive for the present year have not yet been recorded at length. The memoranda of our proceedings, and all the papers connected therewith, which will be placed on the journal when recorded, are now transmitted to you for your inspection.

I have the honour to be

You, Ob't Servant,

DANIEL MARTIN.

Which was read, and on motion of Mr. Herbert, was ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Forrest offered the following message; which was read the first time, and on motion of Mr. Kennedy, was ordered to lie on the table.

By the Senate,

Feb. 24th, 1831.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

The senate with your concurrence will proceed this day at half past two o'clock to the election of a senator in congress.

The senate have appointed Messrs. _____ and _____ to join the gentlemen named in your message of this day.

On motion of Mr. Heath, the message offered by him this morning relative to the election of a senator in the congress of the United States, was taken up for consideration and read a second time.